Replacing Alberta identification

Information for wildfire evacuees

Helping wildfire evacuees replace their identification

The government recognizes that some Albertans may have lost or left behind their provincial identification in the rush to evacuate their homes during the wildfires.

To ensure evacuees will be able to access services they may need as soon as possible, the Government of Alberta is helping evacuees obtain new ID documents right away at no cost.

Evacuees of the Alberta fires who have lost or left behind their Alberta driver's licence, ID card or birth certificate from April 29 to June 29 will be able to replace these documents free of charge until June 29.

Replacement cards and certificates will be sent to an address specified by the applicant. Applicants can choose to send replacement identification to an alternate address that is not a post office box, including evacuation centres and registry agents. The replacements will arrive in about five business days.

To replace your Alberta driver's licence or ID card:

- Visit a registry agent office of your choice.
- Registry agents will validate your identity by looking up your image and your signature to ensure they match what is on file.
- Registry agents will validate you are an evacuee by comparing the address on your identity documents with a government list of affected areas that is updated daily.
- The agent will ask personal knowledge verification questions that only you can answer.
- You may choose to apply for one of the following services:
 - A duplicate of your current driver's licence or ID card at no charge, or
 - Renewal of your driver's licence or ID card (i.e. if your driver's licence/ID card is expiring soon), where standard renewal fees apply.
- The card can be delivered to the registry agent location where you applied, or you can provide an alternate mailing address in Alberta that is not affected by the fires.
- Your replacement card will be delivered on a rush basis within about five business days to the address you specify.

- Note: an application for a replacement card invalidates any current card that may exist. If you do recover your current card, please ensure it is destroyed.

To replace your birth certificate:

- Visit a registry agent office of your choice.
- Birth certificate replacements will be provided at no cost.
- Birth certificates can be replaced by applying in person at a registry agent office if an applicant has other ID. But if that too is missing, you will need to bring someone who can vouch for your identity, having known you for more than one year. The registry agent can assist with this process.
- Most replacement birth certificates can be delivered to the registry agent location where you would pick it up in two to three business days, or you can provide an alternate mailing address in an area that is not affected by the fires.

Applying for Employment Insurance Important Notice

Employment Insurance (EI) provides temporary income support to people who have become unemployed through no fault of their own and are actively looking for work, as well as people who are not working due to special circumstances, such as illness, becoming a parent or caring for a sick relative. Service Canada handles the processing of EI claims and benefit payments. This document is intended for individuals who have become unemployed and its aim is to assist those individuals to apply for EI benefits.

When to apply

Apply for EI benefits as soon as you stop working. You do not need to wait for your Records of Employment to submit your EI application.

Submitting an application

To submit an application, visit Canada.ca. Select Employment Insurance and leave, and then click on the type of benefits that best suits your situation. Finally, follow the instructions to start your online application to claim EI benefits.

At the end of the online application process, you will be presented with a confirmation page. It contains a lot of useful information, including the next steps. Take some time to read it.

Submitting your Records of Employment

Missing Records of Employment can delay the processing of your claim.

- Paper Records of Employment: If your employer uses paper Records of Employment, you must obtain copies of your Record(s) of Employment from all employers you have worked for during the last 52 weeks. After you submit your application online, you must mail or submit the first part (employee's copy) of the paper Record(s) of Employment in-person to a Service Canada Centre as soon as possible so that your application can be processed. The mailing address of the Service Canada Centre to which you should send the Record(s) of Employment will be displayed at the end of the online application process.
- Electronic Records of Employment: Electronic Records of Employment include a serial number beginning with W, S or Y. If your employer sends the Record of Employment electronically to Service Canada, they do not have to provide you with a copy because a copy has been electronically submitted to Service Canada. However, you can retrieve the Record of Employment and print them using My Service Canada Account.

Next Steps

To receive the benefits for which you may be entitled, you must submit a report every two weeks. Failure to do so can mean a loss of benefits. There are two options available to complete and submit your reports:

1. You may use the Internet Reporting Service by visiting the website at Canada.ca, then select Employment Insurance and leave.
2. You may also use the Telephone Reporting Service by dialing 1-800-531-7555.

Information about your Employment Insurance (EI) claim

You can obtain information about your EI benefits claim by consulting My Service Canada Account on Canada.ca or by calling us toll free at 1-800-206-7218.

My Service Canada Account

Under the Most requested section of the Canada.ca website, select Sign in to an account.

My Service Canada Account allows you to access your Employment Insurance information on a secure site. It is fast, easy, useful and secure. If you have a current or a previous employment insurance claim, you can:

View:

- details on your EI claims;
- electronic Records of Employment that your employers have submitted;
- payment information, including deduction details;
- your previous claims;
- important messages from Service Canada;

Update:

- your personal information including your postal address, your phone number and your bank account information for direct deposit;

View and print :

- your EI tax slips (T4Es).

Additional information: Reactivating your EI claim

If you started a new claim for EI benefits within the past 52 weeks, and there are weeks still payable on that file, you must submit an online application to renew (reactivate) your claim.

In some circumstances, it could be more advantageous to terminate a claim and create a new one because this may increase the amount of your benefits or the length of your benefit period. If you prefer to terminate your existing claim and begin another one, you must first contact us by calling 1-800-206-7218.

Your decision to terminate a claim is final and cannot be changed. Here are some points for consideration to help you make a decision:

- Have you worked since the start of that existing claim?
- Have you worked enough insurable hours to meet the qualifying requirements for a new claim?
- Do you know that there is a waiting period of one (1) week for which you will not be paid on a new claim?

If, for any reason, your claim cannot be reactivated, your application will be considered as a new claim.

We acknowledge

Alberta Health Services acknowledges our work is carried out on the traditional territory of many Indigenous peoples. They include the Treaty 6, Treaty 7 and Treaty 8 First Nations and the Métis Settlements of Alberta, the Inuit and the Métis Nation of Alberta, Regions 1-6.

We also acknowledge and respect the treaties made on these territories. As well, we acknowledge the traumatic and painful impact of colonization on Indigenous peoples and recognize eliminating racism in healthcare is a crucial step for reconciliation.

We are dedicated to a collaborative partnership with Indigenous communities, guided by patience, understanding and a commitment to reconciliation.

Who the Indigenous Support Line is for

The support line is for First Nations, Métis and Inuit peoples including youth and Elders, living on or off reserve or a settlement or in cities and towns.

Callers can already be getting care, can be starting care or can have had recent care.

Family members can also call the line with their questions or concerns about a loved one.

Who answers the calls

Indigenous listeners are healthcare advisors. They answer and assist all callers to the support line. They can also arrange translators for callers.

Why the Indigenous Support Line was started

Indigenous peoples in Alberta often have trouble trusting the healthcare system.

The Indigenous Support Line is a step towards reconciliation. It is also part of Alberta Health Services' commitment to improving Indigenous peoples' healthcare concerns and experiences.

Thanks to the Wisdom Council

Alberta Health Services (AHS) thanks the Wisdom Council for promoting the need for the Indigenous Support Line and working with us to offer this help.

The Indigenous Support Line aims to:

- Help Indigenous peoples receive better, easier and quicker healthcare from AHS
- Better connect Indigenous patients, families and communities to other healthcare support such as local community supports, family doctors, Treaty navigators, Métis community wellness advocates, NIHB and transportation.

We will keep working with the Wisdom Council and our Indigenous partners to ensure the support line's success.
